BOOKS OF THE MONTH

IMMIGRATION & DIVERSITY

Immigration has a direct impact on diversity. Wherever migrants settle, they bring with them new languages, new foods, new religions, new styles of music, and so forth. Places that accept cultural diversity as a benefit don't see this as a problem but rather as a natural process. By opening its doors to immigration, Canada has created a society of mixed languages, cultures and religions, representing more than 21% of the total Canadian population, one of the highest proportions among the G8 countries.

But what causes people to migrate in the first place? Mainly work, study or family issues. Other major reasons are to avoid conflict, persecution and violation of human rights.
