

THE COUNSELOR IN ACADEMIC TRAINING

Ms. Marie Thibault provides knowledge, information, and services on educational orientation and training, helping current and prospective students work toward achieving their personal and academic goals. In particular, she is responsible for helping, evaluating, advising, and guiding cycle 2 and 3 students in developing their career plans and in choosing an educational path suited to their personal characteristics.

She also acts as the resource person for the Academic Career and Guidance Content. She offers advice to school resources, provides them with documentation, suggests activities that enable them to identify variables contributing to the student's personal, academic, and professional progress.

She plans, organizes, and delivers academic and vocational information activities dealing with training program requirements, professions, and market trends. She also coordinates and assumes the activities of the Career Documentation Centre and provides support to the students and staff using them.

As a member of the Student Services Crisis Response Team, she works closely with other professionals to ensure concerted and coordinated interventions and assessments of students who are experiencing personal, social and emotional difficulties.
